

Upcoming Events: Master Gardener Seminars

The Cherokee County Cooperative Extension & Cherokee County Master Gardeners present the Gardening with the Masters 2009 Seminar series held on Saturdays throughout the year. Seminars are held at various locations in Cherokee County. All programs start at 10:00 a.m. and are free of charge unless otherwise notes and supplies are necessary. Seating is limited, so registration is encouraged; to register, call the Extension office at 770-479-0418, e-mail: uge1057@uga.edu or fax info to 770-479-0565. For more information, visit the Cooperative Extension website at <http://www.ugaextension.com/cherokee/>.

March:

Celebrate Earth Day! Going Green!

- Avoid Toxins and Polluting; Encourage Recycling
- March 21 at the Hickory Flat Library, 2740 E. Cherokee Drive, Canton

Celebrate Earth Day!

- Learn about drought tolerant and native plants, both earth friendly
- March 28 at the Ball Ground Library, 435 Old Canton Road, Ball Ground

Harvesting Rainwater/Constructing Rain Barrels

- Learn to assemble your own water conserving rain barrel
- March 28 at the Senior Center, 1001 Univeter Road, Canton

April:

So You Want to be a Water-Wise Guy?

- Make water-wise gardening a part of your game
- April 18 at the Hickory Flat Library, 2740 E. Cherokee Drive, Canton

Native Plants in Your Landscape

- Learn low maintenance landscaping using natives
- April 25 at the Senior Center, 1001 Univeter Road, Canton

August:

Composting & Vermiculture

- Learn traditional composting methods and how friendly earthworms can help, too!
- August 8 at the Senior Center, 1001 Univeter Road, Canton

September:

Create Your Own Backyard Wildlife Habitat

- Learn ways to attract wildlife and take home a nature craft
- September 19 at the Hickory Flat Library, 2740 E. Cherokee Drive, Canton

October:

Lawns in Georgia

- Learn the best way to plant and maintain grasses suited to the tough Georgia climate and soil
- October 24 at the Senior Center, 1001 Univeter Road, Canton

